Global Tea Bags market to reach $12.9 Billion by 2031

The tea bags market was valued at $6.1 billion in 2021, and is estimated to reach $12.9 billion by 2031, growing at a CAGR of 7.6% from 2022 to 2031, a research report issued by Allied Market Research reveals.

Players operating in the global tea bags industry have adopted various developmental strategies to expand their market share, increase profitability, and remain competitive in the market.

However, availability of tea substitute products including coffee and drinks at cost-effective prices and trend of coffee consumption are expected to restrict the market growth. The outbreak of the pandemic has negatively affected the global tea bags market, owing to the fact that cafes and restaurants were temporarily shuttered during the lockdown and export and import activities were also shut down temporarily leading to scarcity of tea was created and increase in price.

On the basis of type, the black tea segment was the highest contributor to the tea bags market, with $1,619.4 million in 2021, and is estimated to reach $2,673.5 million by 2031, at a CAGR of 4.9% during the forecast period. Growth of the black tea segment is driven by rise in number of tea drinkers across the globe.

According to tea bags market trends, by application, the commercial segment was the significant contributor to the tea bags market size, with $2,194.9 million in 2021, and is estimated to reach $5,093.6 million by 2031, at a CAGR of 8.6% during the forecast period. People majorly visit cafes, restaurants, independent tea bars, and hotels for drinking tea, owing high standard of services, privacy, and community involvement.

In another research analysis by Fact.MR, a market research and competitive intelligence provider, the total global tea market is analyzed to reach a worth of US$ 20.4 billion in 2024. Worldwide sales of tea are forecasted to rise at a CAGR of 5.7% from 2024 to 2034.
